Fourth Year at Stanford University

"I am a rising fourth year student in the Human Biology program at Stanford University. In the past, I've held positions at the First Nations Health Authority, UBC's Stigma and Resilience Among Vulnerable Youth Centre, and Johns Hopkins Medicine. At FNHA, I wrote a research-based report on Elders' Wellness in BC. While at UBC, I engaged community members and co-wrote a book chapter on Two-Spirit youth wellness titled "Where Am I Going to Go?: Intersectional approaches to ending LGBTQ2S youth homelessness in Canada & the U.S." Finally, at Johns Hopkins, I contributed to basic science research in the Department of Neurology where I studied nerve regeneration. I am incredibly grateful for this scholarship and the opportunities it affords me. In the future, I plan to attend medical school and return to work in BC."

Kind regards,
